

Switching from ISDN

The what

BT intends to switch off the traditional networks for good. They plan to stop supplying ISDN and PSTN in 2023 with an aim to move to a full migration by 2025.

The why

Quite simply, technology has evolved and our phone lines need to catch up a little. Traditional phone lines are made up of really old technology, meaning your maintenance will be much more frequent and costly.

And the how

We can help you to switch to a solution ahead of 2025, to spare you from the price increases and last minute rush.

Thinking about transitioning your business over with good time doesn't just mean you're prepared, it also means you'll benefit from a modern phone system.
